Launch Tech Pty Ltd is presenting an evening in which we will explore the perfect marriage of Automotive Electronic Technology and Information Networking, as well as presenting both the Launch X-431 Master Scanner and the X-431 Diagun Scanner, both of which are 12/24 Volt DC units with automatic switch over built in.

A modern scan tool is more than a trouble code reader, or a tool to look at a data stream. It is also now required to have a Diagnostic tool to re-program various Sensors and ECU's, especially vehicles fitted with ESP, as you will need to check / reset the Steering Wheel Angle Sensor, after conducting a Wheel Alignment.

A good scan tool will help you find the answers to simple problems, and will also give you the data you need to find the more complex problems. This will give you a better understanding of what is going on with the vehicle, looking at the Engine, Transmission, ABS, SRS, ESP, Body Control Modules and much more, it will: Simulate and test sensors, Look at wave forms, Read live data, Re-program Sensors, Print vehicle test data.

A scan tool with enhanced diagnostics can save you a lot of time, money and worry, allowing you to do most of your troubleshooting efficiently and without dismantling the vehicle.

A good scan tool in the hands of an experienced operator can give a clear indication of the nature or repairs required, allowing for more accurate repair estimates, and having to rely on sub-contractors to diagnose for you, which costs both in time and money.

EMAIL ADVICE & REMINDERS

The IAME SA branch can email reminders of upcoming branch nights to members. Sometimes a branch night becomes available after the journal goes to print, and so the email system can allow members to be aware of branch nights that otherwise may have been missed. We can even email you a report of a branch night should you be unable to attend.

Make sure you have the latest information available by sending your email address to David at the SA branch office:

david.mitchell@iame.com.au

Please include your mobile number if you would like a text message reminder prior to branch nights!

THE 2012 MUST HAVE FOR SA & WA DRIVERS!

Registration labels are no longer issued in these states and the fines for driving unregistered are substantial.

Here is a chance to fulfil a much needed and requested market and promote yourself at the same time.

These great looking labels are designed to be placed on the inside of vehicle, such as a windscreen, where it will remind the driver of when registration is due to expire.

The labels can be personalised with your business details or you can use ours for low volume requirements.

LOW cost for HIGH customer impact.

1,000 Personalised Labels - $200.00 (plus P & H)

100 IAME Generic Labels - $ 20.00 (plus P & H)
